Patent Veritas helps international business owners unlock capital and realize their American dream. Business owners in geopolitically restricted countries cannot unlock capital for investment in EB-5 programs, and their businesses often cannot access leading technology. Patent Veritas solves these problems by providing businesses access to world-class technology and business owners a global investment platform tailored for U.S. investment. Patent Veritas acquires globally relevant patents. They then annually license the patents to businesses. Companies subscribe to patents in their countries, providing affordable technology access. Subscribing companies often can reduce their taxes by writing off their Patent Veritas subscriptions, because the licenses are operating costs. The company's structure also allows business owners in geopolitically and currency restricted countries to invest in Patent Veritas and unlock their capital. The capital funds patent acquisitions, generating returns. Investors receive their returns in tax-friendly countries and can use the returns for U.S. immigration programs, like EB-5.
